

Ruby's Slippers

A Novel

by Leanna Ellis

ABOUT THE BOOK

Dottie Meyers, thirty-five, is a real-life Dorothy Gale living with her little dog on a small farm in Kansas that's about to be hit by a tornado. Knocked unconscious by the storm, she awakes at a recovery facility in California where her father, last seen when she was four, has left her a mysterious pair of ruby slippers.

But unlike The Wizard of Oz, this isn't a dream, and the journey that Dottie and three friends are about to take from Los Angeles to Seattle in search of answers will reveal the fallout of a broken childhood. More importantly, everything connected to those sparkling red shoes will prove to Dottie that there's only one true wonder worker behind the so-called curtain who can heal her wounds and prepare her heart to love another.

BEST-SELLING POINTS

- A woman's life parallels The Wizard of Oz and Cinderella, but unresolved issues of her broken childhood can't guarantee a fairytale ending to this romantic comedy.
- A delightfully familiar yet clearly unique story that's sure to interest contemporary Christian fiction readers and The Wizard of Oz fans, too.
- Industry research shows that romantic fiction generated $1.4 billion in sales in 2005 and that nearly 65 million Americans read at least one romance novel in the past year.
